

The 1970 WAMPATUCK

RED MAN

Dave,

We've known each other since before kindergarten and in 13 or 14 years an unbelievable amount of things have happened. From the days in elementary school when we used to play basketball together and go to see our heroes play at the high school one of our dreams came true. When we were the backcourt aces of Watson School I never thought we'd continue to stay together until the quarter-finals of the Tech Tourney. And when we were little league all-stars in baseball I never thought we'd stick it out to the end of our senior year, and I was right! It was the greatest feeling I've had in long time to see you be awarded that trophy last week and all I thought of was all the years we played together. Your parents were sitting right behind me and I don't think another person in the world could be more thankful to them than me. All the years they drove me places, put up with me in Maine, and did everything else I'm not sure if saying thank-you was enough.

Well Red, in two more days one of our milestones will be passed and I don't know how long I will remain to know you, but whenever I think back to elementary, junior and Senior High School I'll never forget you because you've been like another brother. Dave, I want to wish you the best of luck in school down in North Carolina and be good and be careful because you have a long life ahead of you

Larry

INTRO

We've come a long, long way from when we were concerned with only ourselves.

Although we are still involved in our own antics, we are now committed to something greater than ourselves; and it is to this involvement that we dedicate our yearbook.

Those were the days,
my friends . . .

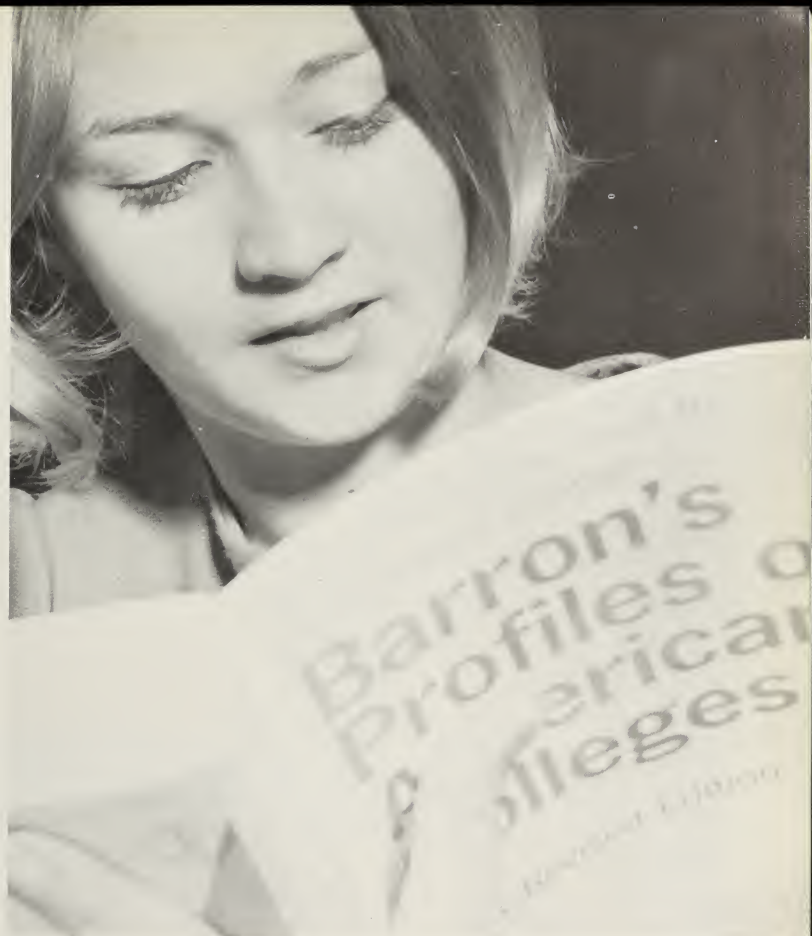

We thought
they'd never end

*Those were the days
when we lived only for the present.
But that was yesterday —* and yesterday's gone.

Then and now —

no matter
how they tossed
the dice,

it had to be

me for you, and you for me

. . . so happy together

We've found what it's all about and we're learning,
learning to care . . .

about school and its activities,

about others,

as well as life

The problems of our world cannot and will not be solved unless we are willing to face them and work hard to solve them.

William F. Young (Superintendent)

Modern educational philosophy is gearing its educational practices and objectives to teach a student how to think, how to evaluate, and how to express himself. These abilities are the tools of dissent. Used wisely they will bring reform. They will enable man to focus on his social ills and problems. These skills must, however, be accompanied by patience, tolerance, understanding, and good purpose. They demand responsible action. I hope that you, the members of the class of 1970, will use your talents to work for the solution of the many problems facing us today. I have confidence that you will.

LOUNGE!"

Bob Danoghue, Mike Floherly, Brion Thompson, Peter Lemonias and Ellen Dunn make plans for the "Sadie Hawkins" Dance — then it's everybody to work and play

But the Student Council did not limit its interests to the usual student activities.

This was the year it reached beyond the "school yard" and moved into the community, serving both the elderly and the very young through volunteer projects in nursing homes and nursery schools.

Its biggest ventures, however, were made in the international scene.

The student exchange program, formerly limited to nearby towns, brought to Braintree High seventeen year old Santiago de Francisco from Bogota, Colombia.

Santiago attended classes here for more than two months and shared the diverse experiences of young Americans.

However, while we are sure he learned much about Americans — our home, school and social life — we are equally sure of the enrichment he brought to us. South America, and especially Colombia, are ever so much closer to us at Braintree because of Santiago.

But we said there were ventures — two of them.

The second stimulated the interests of the entire school as the council solicited funds from every student and faculty member — and then completed its year-long dream of building a school (through the Peace Corps)
for a little village in Ranaka, Botswana, Africa.

Dramatics

Credit is much deserved by this group that continues to struggle against artistic indifference at Braintree High. In the spring of '69 they performed admirably in two very contemporary plays: The American Dream and The Zoo Story, both by Edward Albee.

This winter ('69) they performed the more famous Death of a Salesman by Arthur Miller and again the spring of '70 brought still another, Importance of Being Earnest by Oscar Wilde — all before a half empty auditorium. We sincerely hope both parents and students (as well as teachers) find a way to give up the T.V. amusement center to support this very hard working and dedicated group.

The Adventurers

But the New England winter does not send everyone outdoors and to the crisp mountain air. Some stayed home involved in their own personal commitment — the church.
Here, on a more serious side, BHS students experience brotherhood
and togetherness
with coffee and folk music in a church basement
just after dawn.

A vintage, sepia-toned photograph of a group of students posing in front of a car. The car features a large, stylized mural of a sailboat on its side. A student in the foreground is holding a sign that reads "BRAINTREE HIGH". The background shows a building entrance and other students walking.

BRAINTREE HIGH

While the art department doesn't have any formal club,
 its activities
 and achievements are numerous. Here Braintree prepares what came to be "first prize."
 In another venture this past summer Jane Bregoli captured a first prize and scholarship money in poster painting . . .

We are sure
 the awards
 received by this group are numerous
 but the artists
 themselves remain modest and dedicated to their work, not their awards.

The Junior Classical League

does more than support the contention that "Italia non est insula." Of particular interest to both juniors and seniors is its forum on college life and responsibility. BHS alumni attending as many as fifteen different colleges scattered throughout the United States return to discuss their experiences and to answer the questions our college-bound students would like answered.

French National Honor and French Club

offer students sincerely interested in developing their understanding of the language and the culture of France with numerous activities to do just that — further their understanding of the language and culture of France.

One of the more important functions of our

National Honor Society

is its tutorial service offered to any student desiring or needing assistance in almost any course.

FUTURE NURSES

FUTURE TEACHERS

Debate,

a demanding but rewarding and intellectually stimulating club, suffers the same neglect (even more) endured by our Dramatic Club. We hope both financial and moral support will be forthcoming in the future.

The Future Nurses, Teachers and Secretaries

offer activities and field trips to expose members of these clubs to the expectations and realities of these professions.

FUTURE SECRETARIES

The Library Staff —

thank God someone has the guts to serve. We support this hard-working group and urge more support. The library can be made one of the most vital areas of our school — if we will commit ourselves to it.

Mod Squad

is another
"club," so to speak, that calls upon the services of students dedicated to needs
beyond their own.
It includes both juniors and seniors
who sense a deep
need to combat
both smoking and drug abuse
before it is too late — and in the late '60's that demands
an understanding of elementary children.

All involved in the program are required to study psychology
under the guidance of
Mr. Lague.

Strictly volunteer in nature, the program offers no academic rewards to its members. Instead, it asks of them their total commitment to responsible and sensible living.

Clubs well organized, properly financed and supported help us to reach beyond our narrow worlds and communicate with others.

Football

continues to draw the crowds and develop the spirit that every high school needs.

The season is long and demanding, the victories
scarce (1-7-1) — but the challenges remain
and our boys
have the "guts"
to meet them.

Homecoming Queen

Our Soccer Team

with a 13-0-1 record, again made #1 in the Boy State League. Our congratulations to a grand team effort.

Field Hockey

beware of hard knocks
(3-5)

Cross Country

this was a year to rebuild and our 4-5 record was a promising one considering the fact that our team had very few veterans returning.

Hockey

is Braintree's answer to the contemporary image of "the losers": 3-12-3.

These boys are living proof that hard work doesn't always bring victory.

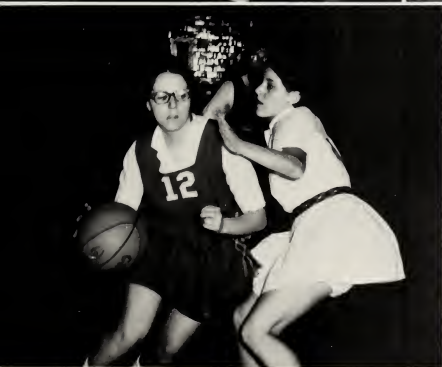

The girls managed to break above the .500 mark with a 6-4 record that could just as easily have been 8 and 2, except for two losses with a one point difference. Though the team lacked height, it was aggressive and gave all opponents (including the women teachers) a rough game.

While our team was knocked out of the tech this year by Hyde Park, the squad gave us another great season and a  $\approx 1$  position in the Bay State League with a 15-3 record.

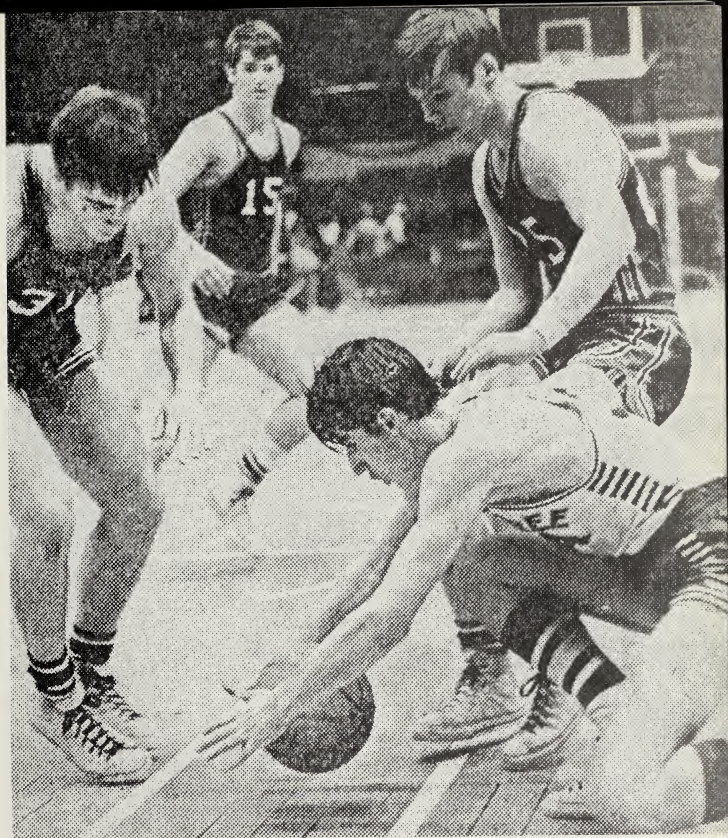

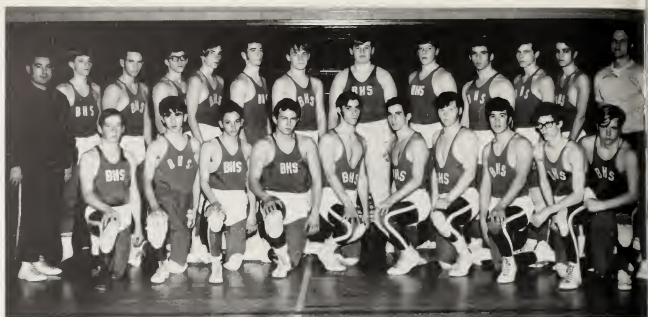

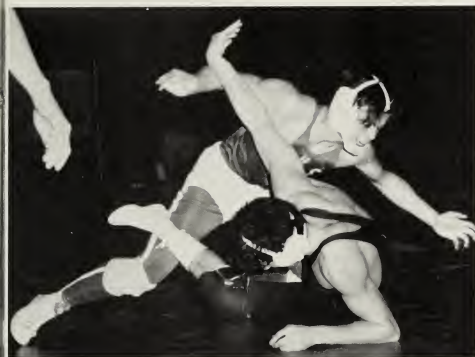

5 wins — 5 losses

Wrestling:

grimace, strain, grunt.
Starve, sweat in the rubber suit, keep the weight down, stand on the scale — then eat and wrestle!

This was a very good year for the girls with a 6-2 season and the promise for an even greater one next year: most of the girls were underclassmen.

While the team will miss the services of its seniors, two of whom placed in the state competition (Tom Murphy: 2nd on rings, Peter DiLeo: 4th on parallel bars), a 6-2 record and a #1 win by sophomore Alan Herrick in the State Championships reinforces our hopes for another winning season.

“commentary”

*too often man's social nature restricts and oppresses his very being, his individuality.
too often society demands that we look alike,
act alike,
think alike —*

for no other reason than similarity for similarity's sake:

so we "hung on"
to our identity and revolted . . .

at times senselessly . . .

at times courageously

Not because we believe the world is ugly, for we have seen its beauty Rather, we protest against the scars you have inflicted —
And we demand the chance to do
What, after all, you hoped we would do:
Make the world a better place for man.

The problems have increased; the possible solutions have become more complex;
Our hopes more intense

We do not profess to be perfect: do you?
We do not profess to have all the solutions: do you?
We will make mistakes: have you?
and we will have to learn humility as another generation seeks to improve our ways:
can you be humble? can you give us a chance?

Here we record the problems of our time Here we record our committment to their solutions

We hope our children will not have to record the same.

But if they do, let us hope this record will help us to understand their frustrations.
